SEASONING YOUR DUTCH OVEN

The trick to a good dutch oven is proper seasoning prior to use. Old Ironware was coated with varnish or laquer to prevent rusting. "Seasoning" was a term which referred to scrubbing or burning off the coating. Modern day ovens still need a good washing in hot sudsy water and then completely dried. This is the only time you should ever wash your dutch oven in water. Next, heat your oven and boil grease in it. Use a clean rag to completely coat the inside, outside, top and bottom of your oven. When the grease starts to smoke, remove the oven from the heat and wipe it out. Leave a little grease as a protective coating.

HEATING

Although a dutch oven can be hung over an open fire it can also be buried in a pit of coals. For hole in the ground cooking, dig a pit larger and deeper than the dutch oven. Line it with small stones or you could even use aluminum foil to reflect the heat. Build your fire in the hole and burn down your charcoal till there are only hot coals. Remove some of the coals to later be placed on top. Put your oven in the hole and cover with dirt about 4-6 inches thick. Add your remaining coals on top of the dirt to speed up your cooking time. Most dishes will require 4-6 hours of cooking in this method but remember, higher altitudes will require more cooking time.

Ralph Webb, a Western outdoorsman, used this method to cook several Thanksgiving turkeys one year. He cleaned out the inside of the uncooked bird and basted it inside and out with barqueque sauce. Several hours later the meat was falling off the bird and was the highlight of the feast.

Dutch ovens are most generally used for cooking on the ground. Build a wood fire or use charcoal coals. Usually you will not need more than ten to twelve briquets under the oven and fifteen or less on the lid. Make sure you distribute them evenly. You can regulate the heat by spreading them further apart, removing coals or mixing ashes with the coals.

DUTCH OVEN ACCESSORIES

You will need a thick hooked stick to remove the heavy lid with or there are commercially made lid removers you can purchase that are an iron rod about 2 feet long with a hook on one end and a handle on the other.

A small shovel can also be a good tool for digging pits or to aid in moving hot coals around.

DAMAGING TIPS

Follow a few tips and your dutch oven should last many generations.

- Do not use strong detergents or scour with a cleaning pad. This will ruin your seasoning process.

- Do not pour cold water into your hot oven. You will run the risk of cracking it.

COOKING SECRETS

A slow cooking dutch oven will give you a temperature of about 300 degrees. Moderate ovens are 350 degrees and a hot oven is 400 - 450 degrees farenhiet. To help determine your heat, add a pinch of flour to the inside of your hot dutch oven. In 5 minutes your flour will turn light brown for a slow oven temperature. Golden brown for a moderate oven and dark brown will determine that your oven is considered a hot temperature.

DUTCH OVEN CHICKEN RECIPES

CHICKEN POT PIE

Ingredients:
Filling:
3 to 3 1/2 pounds chicken
chopped parsley
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
4 hard-boiled eggs, cut into wedges
1 stalk of celery, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 teaspoon saffron
4 large potatoes, peeled, cut
4 stalks celery, thinly sliced
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Dough:
2 cups sifted flour
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
4-6 tablespoons water

Preparation:
Place chicken in Dutch oven, add salt, pepper, celery, onion and saffron. Add water to almost cover chicken. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer about 1 hour or until the chicken is tender. Do not overcook. Remove the chicken from the broth. To make dough, place the flour into a mixing bowl. Make a well in the center of the flour and add the eggs and salt. Gradually work eggs into the flour, adding only enough water to make a soft but not sticky dough. Knead five minutes. Cover the dough with clean cloth and let rest 30 minutes. Divide the dough in half and roll out each as thinly as possible into a 15" square and cut each square into 2" squares with a sharp knife.
Add potatoes and celery to the broth, simmer 25 minutes until vegetables are tender. Taste the broth and add more salt or pepper if needed. Add the chicken pieces and bring to boil. Slide the squares of dough

Spoon the sausage over the bread and sprinkle with the shredded cheese. Beat together the eggs, milk, mustard, salt and pepper and pour it over the mixture in the baking dish. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight, if possible. If a baking pan is used, place it into a preheated Dutch oven, setting it on several stones to keep it off of the bottom. Bake at 350-degree F for 30 to 40 minutes or until set. If the recipe is increased allow a little longer baking time.

Variations:
a. Substitute browned corned beef hash or diced ham for the browned sausage. Add raw or sautéed onions or mushrooms and/or chopped, cooked potatoes.
b. For a meatless version, replace the sausage with chopped raw broccoli or spinach. The spinach version is particularly elegant if you use a combination of Swiss and feta cheese and add chopped green onions and a touch of tarragon. Thawed, well-drained frozen spinach works fine.
c. Different cheeses or breads will give the dish a different character.

DESSERTS & BREADS

DUTCH OVEN COBBLER

Ingredients: (serves 10)
2 #21/2 cans fruit or pie mix (peaches, apples, pineapple, etc.)
1 box white or yellow cake mix
1/4 pound butter

Preparation:
Butter inside of Dutch oven (use only ovens with lipped top because you need to put coals on top of oven). Alternatively, you can line the inside of the Dutch oven with aluminum foil. Place fruit in bottom of oven. Cover with cake mix and level it. Cut butter into about 10 pieces and scatter over cake mix. It is ready to bake. (Note: If you use peaches, you may need to dispose of about 1/2 of the liquid. Crushed pineapple has about the right amount of liquid.)
Place about 8 coals under the Dutch oven and about 16-20 coals on top of oven. Check after 30 minutes. Baking is often complete at 45 minutes. Final Note: Because the Troop often has 100 or so people to feed and a substantial use of Dutch ovens, we have in recent years doubled the recipes in each oven. The number of coals for baking remains the same. Watch the baking closely since it is easier to burn the top of the cobbler with the double recipe.

Mix butter and crumbs and press into a 10-inch Dutch Oven, going up the sides at least 1-inch.

This is very dense and takes about 1 1/4 hours to bake, so be patient. It is done when the top cracks and is firm. This dessert is great warm, but to true chocoholics, it becomes the ultimate after cooling all night in the cold Idaho mountain air and enjoyed with a cup of morning coffee.

BEEF

Barbecued Chili Beef

1 1/2 pounds beef top round
1/4 cup olive oil
1/4 cup fresh lime juice
1/4 cup balsamic vinegar
2 tablespoons molasses
2 tablespoons chopped fresh oregano (1 teaspoon dried)
3 cloves garlic, minced
4 teaspoons cumin
2 teaspoons chili powder
1/8 teaspoon cinnamon

Combine cumin, chili powder and cinnamon in a small saucepan. Cook over high heat for about 40 seconds. Carefully add olive oil, lime juice, balsamic vinegar, molasses, oregano and garlic. Mix well. Grilled Beef Rolls with Prosciutto and Mozzarella

18 large bay leaves, preferably fresh
2 tablespoons golden raisins
1 3/4 pounds beef round or flank, butterflied and cut into twelve 3x5-inch slices
1 small onion, peeled and finely chopped
1 cup bread crumbs, plus additional for coating
1/2 cup finely diced mozzarella
2 tablespoons pine nuts
1 slice prosciutto, 1/16-inch thick, finely chopped
1 large egg, beaten
Salt
Twelve 8-to-10-inch wooden skewers
Olive oil for drizzling

Prepare a hot charcoal fire or preheat a gas grill for 15 minutes on high.

If using dried bay leaves, soak them in tepid water for 30 minutes and drain. Soak the raisins in tepid water for 15 minutes.

Place the beef slices between 2 pieces of wax paper and flatten with a mallet or the side of a heavy cleaver until they are about 1/16-inch thick.

Mix together the onion, 1 cup of the bread crumbs, the mozzarella, pine nuts, and prosciutto. Drain the raisins and stir in. Place a heaping tablespoon of stuffing on each beef slice. (You can freeze any leftover stuffing for later use.) Carefully roll up the slices and secure with toothpicks.

Beat the eggs with a pinch of salt and spread additional bread crumbs on a large plate. Dip the beef rolls into the egg and then the bread crumbs, making sure all surfaces are breaded.

Double skewer all the ingredients: hold 2 skewers parallel to each other about 1/2-inch apart between your thumb and forefinger. Skewer a bay leaf, then a beef roll, another bay leaf, another beef roll, and a bay leaf, putting 2 rolls and 3 bay leaves on each set of skewers.
Drizzle olive oil over the rolls and place on the grill for 7 minutes. Brush more olive oil over the rolls, turn, and grill until golden brown, about another 7 minutes.

Traditional Chateaubriand

2 pounds beef tenderloin
1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup watercress
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
salt and pepper

Trim beef tenderloin of unnecessary fat. The tenderloin should be about 1 inch thick, so if it's too thick, pound to flatten. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter and coat over the surface of the meat. Season with black pepper. Preheat grill. Meanwhile melt remaining 1/2 cup of butter in a sauce pan. Add parsley, lemon juice and season with salt and pepper. Pour into a small container and refrigerate.

Place tenderloin on hot grill and sear on each side for about 4 minutes. Reduce heat and continue grilling until it reaches the desired doneness. Remove from grill and slice into 1/2 inch thick slices. Serve garnished with watercrests and butter mixture (called Maitre d'hotel butter).

Traditional Fajitas

Marinade

1 12 ounce beer
1/2 cup canola oil
1 small onion finely chopped
1/4 cup lime juice
5 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
1 teaspoon ground cumin

1/2 red bell pepper, chopped
1/2 yellow bell pepper, chopped
1/4 cup onion, chopped
1/4 cup chopped fresh cilantro
3 fresh jalapenos, finely chopped
2 tablespoons lime juice

2-3 pounds skirt steak
warmed tortillas
Trim steak of fat. Mix marinade together and place with steak in a sealable plastic bag or flat baking dish. Make sure the steak is well coated. Let sit overnight. Prepare smoker to 200-220 degrees. Remove steak from marinade and let sit for 30 minutes at room temperature. Mix toppings together. If you wish to sop the steak with the marinade during the cooking, put the remaining marinade in a pan and boil for five minutes. Keep warm for sopping. Place meat in smoker. Sop every 20 minutes. Smoke for 1 to 1 1/2 hours. If you have a separate gas grill, pre-heat before the steak is done smoking. If not, preheat the oven. Remove the steak from the smoker and place on grill or under the broiler. Cook on each side for one minute. Let the steak sit for 10 minutes, then cut into thin slices across the grain. While the steak is sitting, place foil wrapped tortillas on the grill or in the oven to warm. Put out the meat, tortillas, topping mixture and any other topping, like sour cream and let your guests put their own fajitas together.

a little black pepper (or red for the bold!)

Deep Fried Turkey Breasts

1 turkey breast (3 to 3 1/2 pounds)
3 tablespoons Cajun Turkey Seasoning

Enough oil to completely cover the turkey breast with 3 inches to spare

Place the turkey breast in the pot you are going to use to fry it. Add enough water to cover the breast with about 3 inches to spare. Remove the breast and measure the water. This is how much oil you will need. Pat dry the breast and coat with Cajun Spices. Heat oil to 350 degrees. The temperature is important so use a thermometer to test. VERY SLOWLY lower the breast into the hot oil. Use gloves to protect yourself from splashing. Fry breast to 7 minutes per pound plus 5 minutes. Therefore a three pound breast will take 26 minutes ((7 X 3) + 5 = 26). Carefully remove from oil. Allow to drain. Carve and serve.

Afghan Chicken

Ingredients for 6 Servings:

* Stephen Ceideburg
* 2 lg Cloves garlic
* 1/2 ts Salt
* 2 c Plain, whole-milk yogurt
* Juice and pulp of 1 large
* 1/2 ts Cracked black pepper
* 2 lg Whole chicken breasts, about

Long, slow marinating in garlicky yogurt tenderizes, moistens and adds deep flavor, so you end up with skinless grilled chicken that’s as delicious as it is nutritionally correct. Serve with soft pita or Arab flatbread and fresh yogurt.

Put the salt in a wide, shallow non-reactive bowl with the garlic and mash them together until you have paste. Add yogurt, lemon and pepper.

Skin the chicken breasts, remove all visible fat and separate the halves. Bend each backward to break the bones so the pieces win lie flat. Add to the yogurt and turn so all surfaces are well-coated.

Cover the bowl tightly and refrigerate. Allow to marinate at least overnight, up to a day and a half. Turn when you think of it.

To cook, remove breasts from marinade and wipe off all but a thin film. Broil or grill about 6 inches from the heat for 6 to 8 minutes a side, or until thoroughly cooked. Meat will brown somewhat but should not char. Serve at once.

Barbecued Salmon with Strawberry Mint and Cucumber Salsa

Ingredients for 6 servings:

* 6 Salmon Fillets, skinless,

-----------------SALSA--------------------------------

* 1 English Cucumber, finely cut
* 1 Green Onion, thinly sliced
* 1 tb Fresh Mint, cut into thin
* 4 tb Seasoned Rice Wine Vinegar
* 2 c Fresh Strawberries, hulled

-------------BARBECUE SAUCE--------------------------

* 1/2 c Unsalted Butter
* 1 Clove Garlic, finely chopped
* 1 tb Honey
* 2 tb Soy Sauce
* 1 tb Fresh Lemon Juice

For best results, prepare salsa 1 hour ahead. In a medium bowl, mix cucumber, green onion, mint and vinegar. Cover with plastic wrap and chill for 1 hour. Just before serving, stir in strawberries.

To prepare barbecue sauce, in a small saucepan melt butter with garlic over low heat. Stir in honey, soy sauce and lemon juice and cook for 2 minutes. Set aside.

Prepare fire in a charcoal grill. When coals are ready, brush sauce on salmon pieces and place in a well-oiled fish-grilling rack. Place rack over coals about 4 inches from fire and grill approximately 4-5 minutes on each side. Brush with sauce again after turning, then baste again with barbecue sauce as it finishes cooking. You can tell when fish is done when it is just barely firm and resilient to touch.

To serve, open rack and remove fish fillets with a spatula. Transfer to a warm platter and top with Strawberry, Mint and Cucumber Salsa.

THE DAY BEFORE GRILLING THE RIBS, put the sugar and vinegar in a pot large enough to hold the ribs and place over medium heat on top of the stove. Cook until the vinegar reduces and forms a syrup with the sugar, about 8 minutes. Watch carefully, as the syrup will suddenly darken in color. Immediately add the broth, water, catsup, tomato paste, mustard, Worcestershire, cloves, chili powder and pepper and bring to a boil. Add the ribs and cook 20 minutes. (If using chicken, cook for 10 minutes.) Remove from heat, remove the ribs from the liquid and place covered in the refrigerator. Cook the liquid over medium heat until it becomes thick and syrupy. The next day, light a charcoal grill. Place the ribs on the grill so they are not directly over the coals and cover the grill so that smoke collects inside. If your grill does not have a cover, improvise one out of aluminium foil. Cook for 40 minutes, basting with barbecue sauce every 10 minutes. When ribs are well heated, remove to a platter and serve. Offer any additional barbecue sauce on the side.

Ingredients for 4 Servings:

* 1/4 c Cider Vinegar
* 1/2 c Water
* 2 tb Sugar
* 1 tb Prepared Mustard
* 1/4 c Butter or Margarine
* 1 Thick lemon Slice
* 1 Onion; sliced
* 1/2 ts Pepper
* 1 1/2 tb Salt
* 1/4 ts Cayenne Pepper
* 3/4 c Heinz catsup
* 2 tb Worcestershire sauce

In a saucepan, mix vinegar, water, sugar, mustard, butter, lemon, onion, and seasonings. Simmer, uncovered, 20 minutes. Add worcestershire sauce and catsup, bring back to a boil and its done. (Good Housekeeping CB, 1955) NOTE: I do not use cayenne or salt and always double this recipe. Into the double recipe, I add about 1/4 to 1/3 cup brown sugar. This gives the sauce more of a sweet and sour taste. It is just excellent on Baby Back Ribs, which I simmer in water with a little vinegar, garlic and just a pinch of salt for about 30 minutes before barbequeing. Through trial and error, I have found that Heinz catchup is thicker and makes a "clingier" sauce.

* 2 tb Worcestershire sauce; or

In Crockpot on High, place cut up pieces of Beef and pork if you want to combine them, or just one or the other. I use what ever beef is on sale trim as much fat off as I can. Cut in large chunks put in Crock with 1 to 2 packages of onion soup mix. I usually use a good 4 to 6 lb roast we like to freeze it. Use enough water to cover. You can add additional onions and celery to give it more flavor. And cook until fork tender. Remove from Crock, put meat on platter to cool, and save a couple of cups of the juice it was cooked in. Put into the crockpot the Chili Sauce, brown sugar, Molasses(optional) Worcestershire to taste. I do not like it too hot so I don't use more than a couple of tablespoons. Now take your meat on a board and start to shred it with a fork and paring knife, how ever it is easy for you, I don't like it to fine so do not use my processor. Just cut in pieces and shred, OK. Now put it back in crock and add enough of the juice it was cooked in, with the onions from the mix also, it adds to the flavor. Add just enough juice to make it moist, save some of the juice for as it cooks on simmer you may have to add some more. If you use for a cookout, you can keep it plugged in, and keep a check for moistness, when it gets a little dry just add some more juice. I use hamburger rolls. or bakery Hamburger rolls, or Kaiser rolls. What ever you prefer. It goes a long way. Left over's I put in little freezer bags or in the margarine containers, 1/2 lb size, and freeze. Just enough for two sandwich's for lunch. This is from memory, so if you have a question or doubt ask away. From Joni's Kitchen For Diabetics’ I take a small portion and just add everything but the sugar and use Twin Brown sugar. Does very well.

Recipe by: Weight Watchers Magazine, June 1996 Prepare grill for medium fire. Season steak with salt and pepper; evenly distribute garlic, raisins, pine nuts and parsley over one side of steak. Starting at smaller end, tightly roll up steak, jelly-roll fashion. Secure lengthwise with metal skewer; use toothpicks to keep filling enclosed. Grill steak 25-30 minutes, turning to brown well on all sides. Remove from heat; let stand 5 minutes. Remove skewer and toothpicks; carefully carve meat so that each slice stays intact.

2. Place patties on grid over medium ash-covered coals. Grill uncovered 14 to 16 minutes or until centers are no longer pink, turning once. Approximately 1 minute before burgers are done, sprinkle each with 1 Tbsp cheese.

3. Place one slice tomato on bottom half of each bun; top with burger. Close sandwiches.

Grilled Lamb Chops

Ingredients for 4 servings:

* 1 c Red current jelly
* 1 c Poupon mustard
* 1 ea Rack of lamb
* 1 c White wine
* 1/2 c Butter
* 1/2 c Shallots (minced)
* 2 tb Rosemary (crushed)

Mix jelly and mustard in saucepan and simmer on stovetop for 5 minutes to melt jelly. Remove lamb chops from rach and French cut, being careful not to remove the fat from the eye (the fat will protect the meat from burning on the grill). Allow sauce to cool completely. Submerge lamb chops in sauce and allow to marinade overnight (place in refrigerator). Grill over Hickory coals 4 to 5 minutes (for medium to medium-rare), basting with sauce as it cooks. Turn once half-way through cooking time. Prepare garnish sauce by browning shallots in butter and stirring in the white wine and rosemary. Serve lamb with garnish sauce and grilled potatoes and vegtables. NOTE: The marinade sauce also goes well with other foods including mushrooms.

Grilled Pizza Bianca Portobello, Eggplant And 3 Cheeses

Ingredients for 4 servings:

* 1 tb Plus 1 tsp garlic; minced
* Virgin olive oil
* 4 4" portobello mushrooms;
* 20 sl Eggplant; cut 1/8" thick
* 2 c Shredded fontina cheese
* Packed
* 3/4 c Parmesan cheese (about 2
* 1/2 c Gorgonzola cheese (about 2
* Pizza dough
* 1/4 c Flat leaf parsley; chopped

Recipe by: Little Mom Prepare a hardwood charcoal fire and set the grill rack 3 to 4 inches above the coals. In a bowl, mix the garlic with 1/4 cup of olive oil. Liberally brush the oil on the mushrooms and eggplant. In another bowl, toss together the fontina, parmesan, and gorgonzola. Cover and refrigerate. When white ash begins to appear on the coals, the fire is ready. Grill the mushroom caps until softened and cooked through, about 4 minutes per side. Grill the eggplant slices until tender, about two minutes per side. Slice the mushroom caps 1/8 inch thick and set aside with the eggplant. Divide the pizza dough into four equal pieces. Keep 3 pieces covered. On a large, lightly oiled unrimmed baking sheet, spread and flatten the fourth piece of dough with your hands to form a 12 inch free form round about 1/16 inch thick; do not make a lip. Gently drape the dough on the hot grill, within a minute the dough will puff slightly, the underside will stiffen and grill marks will appear. Using tongs, immediately flip the crust over onto a warmed baking sheet and brush with olive oil. Scatter one fourth of the mixed cheeses, parsley and grilled vegetables over the crust. Drizzle the pizza with 1 to 2 tbls. of olive oil. Slide the pizza back toward the hot coals but not directly over sections receiving high heat; check the underside often to see that it's not charring. The pizza is done when the cheeses are melted and the vegetables are heated through, 3 to 4 minutes. Serve the pizza hot off the grill. Repeat procedure to make the remaining pizzas.

Grilled Pizza with Two Toppings

Ingredients for 4 servings:

* 1 c Warm water (105-115 degrees)
* 1 pk Active dry yeast
* 1 pn Granulated sugar
* 1/4 c Fine-ground white cornmeal
* 3 tb Whole wheat flour
* 2 1/4 ts Kosher salt
* 2 1/2 c Unbleached flour (to 3 1/2c)
* 1 tb Extra-virgin olive oil
* 3 tb Grated parmesan cheese
* 2 tb Grated bel paese cheese

Place warm water in a small bowl, add yeast and sugar, stir until dissolved; set aside for 5 minutes. Add cornmeal, whole wheat flour and salt, beat to combine. Gradually add white flour, stirring with a wooden spoon until dough is stiff. Transfer dough to a lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic.

Brush dough on all sides with olive oil and place in an oiled bowl. Cover with plastic wrap and allow to rise until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch dough down; if dough is sticky, knead in a small amount of flour.

Makes enough dough for four 12-inch pizzas.

BASIC GRILLING INSTRUCTIONS: Prepare a charcoal fire. When coals are medium-hot, flatten pizza dough on an oiled surface to form a 10-12 inch round that is about 1/8-inch thick. Gently lift dough and drape over grill surface just above the coals. Within a minute the dough will cook and brown. As soon as the underside is crisp and grill marks appear, pull the dough off the grill with tongs and flip over to the edge of the grill, away from direct heat. Quickly brush cooked surface with olive oil, add toppings...

TOPPING #1: PARMESAN, PEPPER, AND PROSCIUTTO Evenly distribute Parmesan and Bel Paese cheeses over surface of grilled and oiled pizza dough. Spoon tomato sauce over cheese. Scatter red pepper and prosciutto over sauce. Continue with final grilling instructions...

Grilled Pizzas

Ingredients for 4 servings:

* 1 c Warm water
* 1 pk Active baker's yeast
* 1 tb Olive oil; plus oil for bowl
* 2 1/2 c Flour, all-purpose; to 3
* 1 ts Kosher salt
* Pizza toppings; see recipe

Recipe by: NYT 6/25/95

1. Combine the water and yeast in a mixing bowl and stir until the yeast dissolves. Stir in 1 Tablespoon of olive oil and 1 cup of the flour. Stir in a second cup of flour and the salt. Sprinkle some of the remaining flour over a work surface and on your hands. Scrape the dough out of the bowl and onto the work surface. Gradually knead in additional flour until the dough no longer feels sticky.

2. Lightly oil a large bowl. Shape the dough into a ball and rotate it in the bowl to coat it with the oil. Cover the bowl tightly with plastic wrap and set in a warm, draft-free place until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch the dough down and knead it for about 1 minute. Return the dough to the bowl and let rise until doubled again, about 45 minutes.

3. Meanwhile, about 30 minutes into the second rise, start a charcoal fire. When the dough has doubled, punch it down and divide into 4 equal pieces. (At this point, the dough can be rolled into 4 balls and frozen. Defrost overnight in the refrigerator prior to use.) Lightly oil the backs of 2 large baking sheets. Roll out each piece of dough into a 9 inch circle (pizzas don't have to be perfectly round) and place them on the baking sheets. Cover with plastic wrap.

4. When the coals turn white, place 1 or 2 of the pieces of pizza dough on the grill (depending on its size) and cook for 1 minute, they will start to puff. Turn the crusts over with a spatula and grill until browned and crisp, about 2 to 3 minutes longer. Watch constantly to keep crusts from burning. Repeat with the remaining dough. Immediately top the pizzas and serve.

Grilled Salmon with Tarragon Aioli

Ingredients for 8 servings:

* 2 c Homemade mayonnaise (or a
* 1/2 c Fresh Tarragon leaves,
* 2 tb Capers, chopped
* 3 tb Green onion tops, finely
* 2 tb Fresh lime juice
* 1/4 ts Freshly ground black pepper
* Salt (omit if using prepared
* Vegetable oil
* 6 Salmon fillets or steaks

---------TARRAGON AIOLI--------------------------

* 4 Cloves garlic pureed to a
* 2 lg Egg yolks
* 1 c Neutral flavored oil (canola
* 3 tb E.V. olive oil
* 1 1/2 tb Warm water
* 1 ts White wine vinegar
* 1/4 ts Salt
* 1/8 ts Freshly ground black pepper

Method:
1. Tear the tarragon leaves by hand to help release the essential oils. Next, finely mince the tarragon with a sharp knife or a mini-chopper. If using a chopper, add the capers and chop with the tarragon.

2. Chop the green onion tops by hand, and add to the tarragon-caper mixture. Chop into the mixture and set aside. Make the aioli (recipe follows), if not using prepared mayonnaise.

3. In a medium to large bowl, combine the mayonnaise/aioli with the tarragon/capers/onion tops. Add the lime juice, and blend well. If using homemade mayonnaise, add salt to taste. Cover and chill 2 to 24 hours. (The further this is made ahead, the better the flavor will be.)

4. Set grill up, using enough charcoal to make a bed 1 1/2 to 2" thick when spread out. The fire should be fairly hot, yet on the verge of beginning to slow down when the salmon steaks are cooked. Adjust the cooking rack over the spread coals and lightly oil.

5. Brush the salmon steaks with a thin coating of the mayonnaise mixture and place on the lightly oiled grill (skin side down for fillets.) Coat the top with the aioli. Place the cover over the grill and open the top and bottom vents. Cook for about 5 minutes. Turn the salmon over (removing the skin and darker flesh if using fillets.) Reapply mayonnaise. Continue cooking, uncovered for another 4 to 5 minutes. Salmon is done when the tip of a knife can be inserted in the thickest part of the fish with little resistance. The fish should be somewhat opaque with a bit of deeper pink remaining in the center.

6. Arrange on a serving platter, garnished with lime wedges and tarragon stems. Pass the remaining aioli in a separate bowl.

AIOLI:

1. Smash the garlic cloves with the flat side of a large knife, removing any green germ that you may find in the center of the cloves. Place the garlic in the bowl of a mortar (or a mini-processor). Grind to a paste with the pestle (or blade), adding some salt to aid in breaking down the garlic (if desired.)

2. Place the egg yolks in a quart-sized bowl. Wrap a damp towel around the base of the bowl to steady it, or place a damp towel beneath the bowl to act as an anchor. Whisk the egg yolks together till well blended.
Begin adding droplets of the neutral-flavored oil very slowly, while continually whisking. When the mixture starts to thicken, increase the oil flow to a thin, steady stream until all of it (including the olive oil) has been incorporated. At this point, the mixture should be fairly stiff.

3. Whisk in the garlic puree. Add the water to the mortar (or mini-processor) scraping any remaining bits of garlic from the sides. Whisk the water into the aioli in a steady stream. Whisk in the vinegar, salt* and pepper. Taste for seasonings and serve. Aioli should be used within 24 hours of having been made, or the flavor of the garlic will turn stale.

----------GLAZING SAUCE-----------------------------

* 17 1/2 oz Container of maltose sugar
* 1/4 c Hot water
* 2 ts Mui Gwe Lo rice wine

Ran across this in the SF paper the other day and, on reading the ingredients, knew immediately that this is one for you. In the article that accompanied the recipe the author talks about a Chinese BBQ oven that the chef who originated this recipe uses. It's made out of stainless steel, five feet tall with a 180,000 BTU burner in it! This is something I really need for my kitchen. This looks like a full-on, no-nonsense Chinese BBQ.

Most master chefs seldom reveal all their kitchen secrets, but Derun Yu shared this recipe for a barbecued pork marinade, adapted for the home oven. Armed with a Chinese rice bowl, he assembled the ingredients, then poured them into a scale so we would have precise measurements.

Versatile Chinese barbecued pork is the "ham" of Chinese cooking. It may be sliced and served as an appetizer or entree, or like a sandwich, cubed and stuffed in bread dough and steamed into pork buns. It's good stir-fried with vegetables, tossed with noodles or cooked with scrambled eggs.

Prepare the marinade: Heat the oil in a wok or saucepan over medium-high heat. Add the garlic and gently fry just until it floats to the surface and is golden brown (about 2 minutes). Quickly remove the garlic and discard. Pour the garlic oil into a large mixing bowl, let cool.

Stir in remaining ingredients with the garlic oil into a smooth sauce. Pour into a glass jar. cool. If the marinade is covered with 1/8 inch cooking oil, it will keep in the refrigerator for several months.

Yields 5 cups.

Then combine the sugar, salt, rice wine, soy sauce, Barbecue Marinade and five-spice powder in a large mixing bowl; mix well. Add the pork butt and marinate for about 30 minutes (when using spareribs, marinate for 1 hour).

Preheat oven to 500F. Pour the water into a 10 X 14-inch roasting pan. Place the roasting rack in the pan (the rack should not touch the water). Remove the meat slices from the marinade and place on the rack; reserve the marinade. Roast for 8 minutes, turn over and roast the other side for 8 minutes longer. Reduce the oven temperature to 300F. Brush the pork with the reserved marinade; roast for an additional 20 minutes on each side. Remove from the oven and let cool for 5 minutes.

Slice the pork butt into 1/4-inch slices.

Prepare the glazing sauce: To soften maltose sugar, place the container (uncovered) in a microwave oven at high setting for 1 minute. Transfer the softened maltose into a double boiler with the water and rice wine; stir until the glaze is well mixed. Keep the sauce warm until ready to use.

Makes 2 cups.

Then spoon a few tablespoons of the glaze over pork before serving. NOTE: Hoisin sauce, ground bean sauce, nam yu, maltose sugar and sesame seed paste are available in Chinese markets.

Jerk Paste

Ingredients for 6 Servings:

* 1 Onion; finely chopped
Recipe by: romero@minerva.cis.yale.edu (C. Antonio Romero) From: rec.food.cooking. Since there were numerous requests in my mailbox today for the jerk recipe, I thought I’d just go ahead and post it.

I started with recipes from "Jerk: Barbecue from Jamaica" by Helen Willinsky-- which seems to be a reasonable cookbook, though I haven't tried many of their recipes beyond the jerk marinades and jerk chicken. I've made some modifications of my own which I'll note as I go.

Jerk seasoning can be made two ways: one is a marinade, one is a paste (more authentic, sez Willinsky)
Mix all ingredients to form a paste (use a food processor).

The recipe as I have been doing it lately uses dried habaneros (all I could find around here) and instead of the onion, a cup to a cup and a half of scallions including the bottom part (I think I used two bunches of six not-very-large scallions each; trim the little roots and the scraggly bit at the top of the stalk). Looks and smells just like the Jamaican Country Style jerk in the bottle. I also add a little soy sauce for color, and a generous shot of cream sherry-- seems to go well in the paste; I think the sweetness works well with the allspice.

Jim's Teriyaki Marinade and Bbq Sauce

Ingredients for 2 cups:

* 1 c Soy Sauce
* 1 c Water
* 2 tb Vinegar
* 2 tb Brown Sugar
* 1 ts Dry Mustard
* 1/2 ts Powdered Ginger
* 1/2 ts Garlic Powder
* 1 ts Hot Pepper Sauce, opt'l
* 2 tb Corn Starch
Whisk together all the ingredients except the corn starch. Marinade the meat long enough to flavor and tenderize- 1 hr for young chicken breasts or fish, overnight for round steak and up to 5 days for some game cuts.

BBQ and baste with the marinade. Make a slurry of the starch and a little water and whisk into the marinade. Bring to a boil, stirring as the sauce thickens. Serve with the BBQ'd meat.

Real garlic and ginger only improves this dish. The amount of pepper sauce can be varied from mild to fiery. You can substitute wine, sherry, orange or pineapple juice for some or all of the water to vary the flavor. Pineapple juice has an enzyme that provides additional tenderizing power to the vinegar and mustard.

Recipe by: Joni Bodart
Cook pasta al dente, set aside in hot water to keep hot. Lightly oil and grill chicken, eggplant, mushrooms, and roma tomatoes over med heat till done. Cook tomatoes on skin side only, so as not to lose any juice. Eggplant should be soft, tomatoes hot and lightly charred, and mushrooms and chicken cooked through. Cut chicken and eggplant into bite-sized pieces, and slice portobellos. (You can slice them first and grill the slices if you prefer) If the mushrooms are large, you may need to halve the slices. Cut tomato halves into two or four pieces, saving juice. Drain pasta, and toss with several drizzles of olive oil, garlic, basil, sundried tomatoes and 1/4 c cheese. Add chicken and veggies, toss again. Season to taste with s&p. Serve hot with the rest of the cheese. NOTE: The amounts may be played with, especially the amounts of chicken and pasta, and the mushrooms may be sauteed in butter rather than grilled if preferred. I really like the smoky taste from the grill.

Basic Grilling Tips:

Grilling time can vary with the cut of beef, grid position, temperature of coals, weather and desired doneness.

Our recipes start with beef taken directly from the refrigerator. It is not a safe food practice to bring meat to room temperature before cooking.

Use medium to medium-low coals to ensure even cooking.

Trim excess fat from meats to avoid flare-ups while grilling.

Direct grilling can be done with the grill covered or open; foods cooked in a covered grill usually cook faster.

Use long-handled tongs for turning steaks or roasts; spatulas for turning burgers. Don’t use a fork, which pierces the beef, allowing flavorful juices to escape.

Determine the doneness of steaks by making a small slit near the bone and checking the color; for boneless cuts make a slit near the center. For thicker steaks, use a quick-recovery meat thermometer to accurately gauge the doneness.

Grilling with Mesquite & Hickory for Great Flavor:

Mesquite and Hickory are great for grilling. They’re easy to light and you’re grilling in 20 minutes. Wood can be used with any type grill. You’ll enjoy the outdoor Texas flavor it gives you meals! Mesquite wood provides a sweet, delicate taste that accents beef. Hickory wood imparts a smoky, bacon-like flavor often associated with Southern-style cooking.

Direct Grilling Method:

Foods are cooked directly over coals. This is a fast method for cooking steaks and burgers. Mesquite wood burns hot, so cook around perimeter of coals.

Indirect Grilling Method:

Slow cook thicker steaks and roasts in a covered grill. Bank coals around a foil pan. Place beef over pan so food is not over coals. Keep grill temperature at 300 degrees to roast. Add wood to maintain heat.

Flavoring with Wood Chips:

Wrap a handful of wood chips in a foil pouch. Pierce the foil to release smoke. Put pouch over hot charcoal or gas briquettes. The chips will smolder and not flame.

Cooking with Wood Chunks:

Stack wood over 2 sheets of crumpled newspaper or starter stick. Open vents. Light paper; let wood burn 15-20 minutes. Extinguish flame by closing lid and vents for 30 seconds. Adjust vents for desired heat level. Begin grilling. Note; Hickory is a dense wood and may require more paper or lighter fluid to start fire. Or, use convenient Light-the-bag chunks. The wood is pre-measured for one cookout. Place entire bag in grill and light corners.

To test temperature of coals:
Hold your palm over grill at cooking height. If the heat forces you to pull away in 3 seconds, coals are hot; if 4 seconds, coals are medium and it 5 seconds, coals are low.

To lower temperature of coals;
Raise grid or spread out the coals. If cooker is covered, close vents halfway

To raise temperature of coals;
Lower grid or push together coals. Add more chunks to outer edge of hot coals. If cooker is covered, open vents fully.

Checking Beef's Doneness:
Use a quick-read meat thermometer. Or, you can also use the touch method. If the meat is rare, it will feel soft and yielding; if medium it will give slightly; and if well-done it will be firm.

Unusual Chinese Grilled Shortribs

Ingredients for 4 servings:

* 4 ea Large, meaty shortribs
* 1/3 c Oriental toasted sesame oil
* 4 1/2 tb Peanut butter
* 4 tb Brown sugar
* 2 1/4 tb Curry powder
* 3/4 c Soy sauce
* 1/2 tb Black pepper (fresh cracked)
* 1/2 c Rice sherry wine
* 1/2 ea Fresh ginger root
* 2 ea Large garlic cloves (minced)
* 10 ea Green onions

Make shortribs into short, flat strips. Begin by placing rib fat-side-up on cutting board and cut 1/4" high layer almost (but not through) the bottom-most section of the rib. Turn meat over and continue to make 1/4" layers until the rib is completely layered and is now one long strip. Using the edge of a Chinese knife or other flat surface, pound meat until it is off an even thickness. NOTE: Chill the meat well. This cutting method will not work well on room temperature ribs. MARINADE: (Curry Based Blender Sauce) Blend all liquid ingredients in a blender for about 15 seconds at "Blend" speed. Grate the fresh ginger root and combine with the minced garlic. Mince the white (only) portion of the green onions. Add all ingredients to blender mixture and operate on "low" for about 45 seconds. Rub sauce onto butterflied ribs and refrigerate for 2 or more hours. NOTE: This sauce is excellent for chicken, too. Place ribs on grill, basting often with sauce until done, about 30 minutes depending on heat of grill. Watch carefully to determine when done.

* 3 tb Black Peppercorns
* 3 tb Cumin Seed
* 2 tb Turmeric
* 1 tb Ground Cardamom
* 1 tb Ground Coriander

Grind all the ingredients together with a mortar and pestle or in a spice grinder. Store in an airtight container.

Rub this spice blend devised by Zvia, an Afghan street vendor in New York, all over beef, pork, or chicken 2 hours prior to grilling. It also adds a pungent flavor to tuna, swordfish, bluefish, and bass; rub it on both sides of the steak or fillets about an hour before grilling. In both cases, the rub can be left on the meat or fish while grilling to make a blackened seasoned crust. It can also be stirred into boiled rice or summer soups to taste. Makes about 1/3 cup.
